

Proven in the Laboratory, Proven in the Space, Proven on the High Seas, Proven on the Race Track and Proven in everyday vehicles around the world, X-1R is the third generation of engine treatments that promise to deliver technology proven by NASA at prices you can afford.

X-1R performance lubricants are the only lubricants in the world ever to be inducted into the Space Foundation and NASA Space Technology Hall of Fame. After a million dollar R&D program and followed by rigorous testing X-1R was accepted by the Kennedy Space Centre for the Space Shuttle Crawler, the heaviest vehicle in the world.

In fact X-1R was tested against all commercially available lubricants and was proven to provide the best level of anti-friction protection available.
